

Table of Contents

	Page
Introduction	Intro-1
Chapter 1. General Principles of TOD	1-1
What is TOD?	1-1
Why TOD?	1-3
Benefits from TOD	1-3
Barriers to Implementing TOD	1-5
References	1-6
Chapter 2. Creating a Framework for TOD	2-1
Livable Communities	2-1
The TOD Strategy	2-1
Demonstrate Public Commitment to Private Investment	2-2
Participate in the Private Development Process	2-5
Development Opportunities at Different Station Locations	2-5
Provide Long-Term Value	2-7
References	2-8
Chapter 3. Key TOD Considerations: Zoning, Density, Mixed-Usage, Buildings and Architecture	3-1
Pedestrian-Friendly Areas	3-1
Transit-Friendly Zoning	3-2
Density	3-5
Mixed-Uses	3-6
Buildings and Architecture	3-8
Provide Usable Public Open Space	3-9
References	3-10

Table of Contents

	Page
Chapter 4. Providing Access to Transit	4-1
Access to Rail Transit Stations	4-1
Pedestrian Access to Rail Transit Stations	4-1
Transit Access to Rail Transit Stations	4-2
Bicycle Access to Rail Transit Stations	4-3
Taxi Pickup and Drop-off Zones	4-3
Development-Oriented Bus Facility Design	4-4
References	4-8
Chapter 5. Streets and Parking	5-1
Connectivity	5-1
Automobiles within the TOD	5-5
Parking Design	5-5
References	5-8
Chapter 6. Pedestrian and Bicycle Facilities	6-1
Design Development for Pedestrians and Bicycles	6-1
References	6-3
Chapter 7. Examples of TOD in California	7-1
Rio Vista West, San Diego	7-1
Fruitvale Transit Village, Oakland	7-3
Hollywood-Highland, Los Angeles	7-5
Holly Street Village, Pasadena	7-7
References	7-8

Table of Contents

	Page
Chapter 8. Ten Lessons Learned	8-1
Key Lessons	8-1
References	8-3
Appendix	Appendix-1
TOD Evaluation Checklist	Appendix-1
References	Appendix-3